COMMENTARY

The Global Balanced USD Fund returned 0.3% in July, bringing the year-to-date performance to +7.8%.

Overall global investment markets were positive over July with the US and emerging markets positive and the FTSE 100 hitting all-time highs. The rally was underpinned by a combination of positive corporate earnings releases and increased policy clarity from the Trump administration—most notably following the passage of the One Big Beautiful Bill Act.

For the FTSE specifically, defence stocks continued to gain momentum, with companies such as Rolls Royce and BAE Systems reporting strong financials and attracting growing investor interest. This was reflected in the fund via the Vanguard allocation.

Outside of the UK, the main benefactors were more growth-oriented sectors of the market such as technology, discretionary and industrials. Healthcare and consumer staples, both more defensive sectors, posted modest returns but pleasingly were still positive over the month.

With respect to underlying holdings, Sanlam Artificial Intelligence increased 6% over the month as top holdings Nvidia, Arista Networks, Amazon and Microsoft returned double digits. BlueBox Technology benefited from also holding a number of these names and more positive broad technology sector exposure. Advanced Micro Devices, Synopsys, TE Connectivity were strong contributors to performance.

These equity returns were stabilised by the relatively equal exposure to fixed income. Bond markets reflected caution over the period, with US Treasuries struggling amid rate pressures. Corporate credit, especially high-yield, outperformed modestly, supported by narrow spreads and strong investor demand. Rate easing in emerging markets and expectations of such globally, alongside significant foreign buying added nuance to the landscape.
